Average Home in Sierra Madre Costs $2,909 Says Record of Building Permits

Records Show Steady Increase in the Value of Dwellings Being Built in Community More and More a City of Homes

What is the average house in Sierra Madre? This is a question which gives rise to a number of opinions. Even Sierra Madre real estate brokers, who are constantly in touch with development around the town, differ widely in their estimates of the cost of the average dwelling in Sierra Madre. Some are higher than others but all are a little too high in their estimates, according to the cold figures produced by Building Inspector A. M. Udell.

According to the records at the city hall the home built during the last three and one-half years by Average Home Owner has cost him exactly $2,909. This of course does not include the purchase of a lot, but merely the building. According to the above estimate the average home in Sierra Madre costs roughly between $4,000 and $4,500.

The above figures were taken from the books of the city building inspector and include all the dwellings built since the building ordinance went into effect more than three years ago. It does not include repairs, remodeling, garages or business buildings. There have been 322 buildings built in Sierra Madre between January 1, 1922, and June 1, 1925, with a total value just short of a million dollars. From present indications the dwelling class alone will pass the million dollar mark by the end of this month and certainly by the end of the summer.

Though the average house built in Sierra Madre is valued at $2,900, there is only one house on record which was estimated to cost $2,900. There are several worth $3,000 on record and a great many at slightly less, but only one which is exactly $2,900. In other words, there is only one average home in the city.

The most expensive building to be recorded in the office of the city building inspector is that being built by R. A. Pratt at the corner of Alegria and Canyon. The estimated cost of this home is $18,000 and from this height the permits graduate down to small mountain cabins valued at two or three hundred dollars. The majority of homes, however, seem to be valued from $2500 to $5,000.

Another interesting feature shown by the records is that the grade of home being built in Sierra Madre is steadily improving. Though it is a recognized fact that building costs have declined the general trend of estimated costs in this city is upward. It is safe to say that the average dwelling built in 1923 would be more expensive than those built in 1922 and those built during the last years much more valuable on the average than in the previous years.

The houses built a few years ago are largely responsible for the comparatively low average but investigation of the records shows that the standard is constantly increasing. The average of the first 100 houses recorded in the building inspector's books shows an average value of $2,385, while the last 100 houses on record show an average value of $3,518. These last two figures could hardly be considered as useful in finding the average cost of dwellings in Sierra Madre as a few expensive buildings in so small a number would increase the average too much.

Mrs. Steinberger Speaks at Luncheon

Mrs. L. E. Steinberger was the speaker at the chamber of commerce luncheon at the Wistaria Tea Room Tuesday. Mrs. Steinberger told the members present of the early days of Sierra Madre dating from 1885 up to the present time. She sketched the early history in a most delightful manner, telling of the old days when the town hall was the center of Sierra Madre's social, political and civic activities, of the organization of the various churches, the Woman's club, the coming of the interurban railroad and a number of other important events. Her account of the "boom" days of 1887, when real estate was higher and more acreage subdivided than has ever been since, was particularly interesting. E. D. Burbank was chairman of the day and secured Mrs. Steinberger as speaker.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Olson leave Monday for a month's vacation trip through Oregon. Mr. Baird of Pasadena will have charge of Chaffee's store during Mr. Olsen's absence.

Jack Buchan, Carl Young, R. M. Finlayson, Albert Wheeler and Ray Grant went to Los Angeles Monday night to see the initiation of William G. McAdoo and Mayor Cryer into the Royal Arch degree.

Club Women At Whittier For Meeting

On Saturday, June 13, the association of City Planners of Los Angeles County held their monthly meeting at Whittier. Thirty-nine cities were represented by about 125 city planners and those interested in city planning. Sierra Madre has no city planning association, but a group of club women who feel keenly the desirability of being informed upon this topic attended the meeting. Miss Ruth Klemme, president-elect of the Sierra Madre Woman's club; Mrs. J. Glenwood Jones and Mrs. Emil Sturthall, first and second vice presidents-elect, respectively; Mrs. Gruit, the new president of the Parent-Teacher association; Mrs. W. J. Lawless, federation secretary for the Woman's club, and Mrs. May H. Roberts, chairman of Regional Planning and Legislation for the coming year, made up the party.

Previous to the calling to order of the meeting the ladies visited the John Muir elementary school of Whittier and found it to be a model plant for the use of the four hundred pupils enrolled there, approximately the same number as in the Sierra Madre school. Adequate playground facilities were to be seen, and special note was taken of the fact that the grounds were provided with flood lights for night games. Indoors the building was found not only admirably arranged for the work required but adorned with beautifully selected pictures which took away from the bare "institutional" look that is often so depressing in school buildings. It was learned that these aids to training children in an appreciation of art by the best possible means—giving them objects of art to live with—were purchased by surplus money earned by the splendid cafeteria conducted in the basement. The Sierra Madre women were most enthusiastic over this department of the school, which is able to provide good luncheons for the children at an average cost of from twelve to fifteen cents and still have a surplus above all running expenses for a number of things for which it would be difficult to get funds through ordinary channels.

From the school, the club women went to Whittier College, where the city planners met at an inspiring meeting presided over by J. M. Paige of Pomona, the president of the association. Twelve or more speeches were given on topics vital to city and regional planning. The thought that the ideal city is one in which there is the greatest amount of open space per capita in conjunction with adequate business and home facilities was especially stressed. Parks are always a matter of greatest interest to the City Planners association, and Mr. Paige, for twelve years park superintendent of St. Louis and for an even greater length of time in that same office in Pomona, California, promulgated the theory that there should be at least a small one for every seven blocks of built up community. Mr. Paige reported a visitors list of 107,000 at Genesha Park, Pomona, last year, coming from practically every state in the union and eight foreign countries, and stressed the advertising value of that great number of visitors to an inland town, which without Genesha Park would have nothing to offer the tourist but a mediocre business section and an ordinary residence district.

Opening New Tracts Dr. George H. Flanders of the Whittier Planning commission gave a report which interested the small town planners immensely. Dr. Flanders said Whittier became imbued with the city planning idea five years ago and had a set of "master map" plans made which it was felt would only be worked out during the course of the next fifteen to twenty-five years. Suddenly oil was struck and Whittier became a "boom" town. Every rancher for miles around wanted to cut his property up into a more or less desirable subdivision, almost always very badly planned as to streets and other facilities. The planning commission dug the "master map" out of the files and instead of waiting fifteen years to put it into effect, started at once on its well thought-out provisions. As a result "dead end" streets were eliminated, subdivision men were prevailed upon to work for the harmony of the whole and Whittier is today a visible example of the incomparable value of a real city plan.

Street lighting was a topic of much discussion and some of the "high lights" culled were that in Beverly Hills street lights cannot be installed without at the same time planting trees, and that Los Angeles requires a photograph of the proposed light to be submitted with a petition for street lighting to the municipal art commission and favorably passed by that body before the petition will be considered by the bureau of lighting.

Aids Highway Opening Great jubilation is felt by city, and especially regional, planners over

Garden Fete On Thursday at Tarr Home

Dancing on the tennis courts of the N. W. Tarr home will be one of the features of the Lawn Fete to be given by the Sierra Madre Chapter, Eastern Star, on Thursday evening, June 25. There will also be a dinner served on the lawn and with Mrs. Hortense Hill and Mrs. W. E. Walker in the kitchen a good square meal is assured to all who attend. The price of the dancing will be 50 cents each. A good orchestra will be provided.

The Tarr home is located on 274 West Montecito or may be reached through the gate directly across from the Woman's club on West Central. The spacious grounds are convenient to arranged and will take care of a large crowd of visitors.

Dinner will be served from 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon until 7:00 o'clock. The price for the dinner will be 75 cents per plate and those desiring to attend may purchase tickets at the News office or at the gate on the evening of the fete. The ladies, however, are anxious to form some sort of an estimate of the number which it will be necessary for them to provide for and will appreciate having as many as possible purchase their tickets in advance.

The fete, as is the case with most Eastern Star activities at present, is for the purpose of raising money to assist the local Masonic lodge in furnishing the new Sierra Madre temple. The particular article to be purchased at present is carpet for the hall. The ladies have determined to have the hall neatly carpeted in the near future and the money taken in at the fete will be applied on this project.

The usual activities which accompany lawn fetes will be in evidence next Thursday. With the beautiful grounds of the N. W. Tarr home as a setting a fine evening will be assured to all who attend. The dancing and eating being two very popular forms of enjoyment, indicates that everyone would be able to indulge his tastes. Those who cannot dance are asked to attend the dinner and those who are dieting may dance with no disastrous effects and those who enjoy both eating and dancing will find a full evening awaiting them at the Tarr home on Thursday.

A century plant at the home of C. Hall Perry, 118 East Laurel, is reported to be in bloom. The stalk is unusually high and the blooms beautiful.

The passage of Bill 688 in the last legislature. No. 688 makes many things possible in unincorporated areas that have hitherto been confined to municipalities only, and Sierra Madre should feel particularly happy over this event as there seems little doubt that roads may now be extended across the Hastings ranch, thus at last placing this city in adequate communication with Pasadena and points west.

During the past two years 150 miles of 100-foot boulevards have been arranged for by the planning commission and all those roads are today either finished, under construction, or with condemnation proceedings now under way, and with Governor Richardson's signature on Bill 688 efforts along this line will be redoubled by the commission.

The next meeting of the association was announced for 10 a. m., July 11, at Long Beach, and an invitation was extended to all those interested in the improvement of their city and county. An invitation was also given by the Manchester Boulevard association to attend a barbecue at Palisades del Rey at the conclusion of the Whittier meeting to celebrate the completion of arrangements for the carrying through of Manchester Boulevard from the Orange county line to the sea. A goodly number accepted the invitation and at Palisades del Rey listened to Mr. Hugh R. Pomeroy of the regional planning commission, who spoke of the great increase in realty values following street improvements, and Mr. G. Gordon Whittall, director of the Los Angeles Planning commission, who made a moving plea for the de-centralization of cities, and the limiting by law of the height of buildings, giving New York as the world's most appalling example of the failure of a city to be a good place for its people to live in or to conduct their business in. Mr. Whittall has but recently returned from the conference of international city planners held in New York, and reports that the convention was unanimous in pointing out New York as the "horrible example" of civilization. He added that New Yorkers themselves are so aware of this fact that their newspapers published the criticisms made at the convention and agreed with them, and he begs us people of the southwest to bear these facts in mind and work unwaveringly for the opposite of all-throttling congestion—de-centralization.

Class of Twenty-Two Given Diplomas in Exercises At Club House Thursday

Big Crowd Sees School Exhibits on Display and Other Events at Grammar School Tuesday Afternoon and Evening

A busy week of the Sierra Madre school was closed Thursday night when a class of 22 graduates were given their diplomas at the Woman's club house following exercises which were attended by a large crowd of friends and relatives of the graduates.

These exercises also closed a very successful school year, of which Miss Elizabeth Steinberger and her corps of assistants have just reason to be proud. The school has taken its place among the best in the county and has won a number of honors in competition with other schools in the county. The most important of these is perhaps the poster contest, in which Sierra Madre won a loving cup for the best group of posters. Lawrence Brain won a prize for the best and Morris Fox honorable mention for the best poster in the entire county.

Prize Awards The cup which was awarded was presented to the school Tuesday with due ceremony and an entertainment in which a number of children of the moving picture studios and the stage took part. The entertainment was held in conjunction with a sort of open house, which has become an annual occasion with the school. Parents and friends of the children were pleasantly surprised to see the unusually attractive exhibits in art, pottery, sloyd, cooking and sewing in which were specimens of work produced by the children of the school from kindergarten to the graduating class.

Tom Schwartz of the United States Forestry department awarded a number of prizes for the essay contest recently arranged by the forestry department. The prizes were $2.00 each. The winners follow:

Sixth Grade—Prize, Treva Scott; honorable mention, Marian Ratcliff, Jean Uther.

Seventh Grade—Prize, Craig McLaughlin; honorable mention, Bessie Shapiro, Betty Newton.

Eighth Grade—Prize, Roberta Scott; honorable mention, Hazel Udell, Elizabeth Lichnog.

The chamber of commerce also awarded prizes for the best posters advertising Sierra Madre as a beautiful residence town. The prize winners in this contest were Frances Glidden, first; Andrew Gunness, second, and Evelyn Smith, third.

Junior High Where? Dr. John F. West, head of the Pasadena school system, was in Sierra Madre on Tuesday and attended the exhibits at the school. Dr. West is trying to ascertain what the people of Sierra Madre desire in regard to the establishing of the Junior High school in Pasadena. Dr. West says that the people of this community are paying taxes on a full four-year course there and are also maintaining their seventh and eighth grades here. He suggested that a mass meeting be called in the near future to discuss the problem.

DRUG STORE TO OPEN WITHIN NEXT FEW DAYS

The Central Pharmacy, which is being installed in the new hotel building on West Central, will be ready for its formal opening by next Saturday, according to A. G. Utter, proprietor of the new firm. Mr. Utter is a registered pharmacist of long experience and has been employed in a large drug concern in Los Angeles prior to his locating in Sierra Madre. He and Mrs. Utter have located in Sierra Madre and are living at present on North Lima street. He will be assisted by Dr. F. R. Rich.

Mr. Utter has a fine set of fixtures and is stocking his store with a large line of drugs, sundries and fountain supplies. He expects to make his store first class in every way, handling first class, nationally known goods and giving the best possible service.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Farman will leave Sunday for the Puget Sound country to spend a vacation of 60 days. They expect to motor and anticipate an enjoyable summer in the cool north.

Greek Fete Will Start Next Week

The Greek Festival which has been postponed several times during the year, will become a fact on June 26 and 27, according to Mrs. J. Glenwood Jones, who is directing the pageant. The fete has attracted a great deal of interest and from all indications there will be a good crowd present at the Roberts home on West Grand View on both nights.

The festival is something which is rarely attempted among amateur players in Southern California and is interesting and entertaining as well as aesthetic. There will be three scenes depicting sketches of Greek Mythology and will portray many of the customs of the creators of our early culture. Beside pageantry there will be a number of classic dances and many of the scenes contain friezes and dances which are of the highest order.

About 40 Sierra Madre people will participate in the coming event which is being staged as a tribute to Mrs. Samuel E. Stork, retiring president of the Woman's club. The grounds of the Roberts home on East Grand View form an unusually beautiful setting for such a frolic and those in touch with the situation forecast that the festival will in every way repay those who have put their time and energy into its organization.

Tickets for the festival are on sale at the News office and at Hartman's drug store.

Will Hold Honor Meet Here Next

The Court of Honor for all of the Boy Scout troops in District Four will be held at the Parish house, the Episcopal church, Sierra Madre, next Monday evening. It is expected that this will be one of the best attended sessions for the season and a cordial invitation is extended to everyone interested in scouting, or in boys, to attend. Troops will be here—or representatives of troops—from Monrovia, Arcadia, and the Town of Temple. The two Sierra Madre troops, also, will be represented, and several of the local scouts will receive advance badges or merit badge honors. Special features also will be offered as a program. Atty. Robert Mitchell, chairman for the district, will preside as judge of the court. Field Executive Dennis Stovall, who also is scoutmaster of Troop One, Sierra Madre, will represent Pasadena headquarters. The court opens at 7:30. Seats reserved for all visitors.

This will be the last honor court session held before the summer camp and for this reason it is of especial interest to the scouts. The Catalina summer camp promises to be one of the largest and best in the history of the Boy Scout organization. Quite a number of scouts, from both local troops, have signified their intention of going, and several have signed their applications. Medical examinations are required this year of all boys who go to camp.

Troops One and Two have been holding excellent meetings of late at the Park house, and plan to keep these going through the entire summer, with the exception of the two weeks covering the camp period. Most of the Sierra Madre boys will attend the second camp period, which begins on July 9, and holds until the 19th. Scoutmaster Stovall will accompany this contingent and remain during the ten days to serve as one of the camp directors.

Observations

The world enjoyed its breakfast this morning with renewed relish.

"I'm all right," came the voice of Amundsen up there on top of the world, after a month of silence. No arctic expedition ever held such an appeal to popular imagination as that of Amundsen and his companions. The promise of swift return and the possibility of completing a successful polar flight within a few hours only intensified the suspense as absence dragged out to a month.

What a World to Surmount

What a world it is that Amundsen saw spinning around beneath him on his flight! The first page of your morning paper so crowded with big news that even the latest murder story is buried by the march of world events: Amundsen back to headquarters with new data on polar conditions; China seething like a tea-kettle, and the "civilized" nations trying to hold the lid down while their peace envoys at Geneva try to make war a more gentlemanly diversion; the passing of Kruttschnitt, railroad builder and operator, and LaFollette, regulator of railroads and a lot of other things that needed it; astronomers finding new worlds and giving us new data on old friends among the stars, including the fact that old Sirius has been leading a double life with a mysterious soul-mate lurking in the background; and the whole world full of graduates and degree-laden dignitaries!

What a world for the graduates to tackle!

Keeping Young

If commencement time finds you wishing you were young again and starting life over, forget it.

Youth, real youth, is a matter of lively interest. These jaded, world weary youngsters, the kind who find the filling for their mud pies in the garbage can like the kids I mentioned last week, haven't any youth.

Youth is the capacity for taking a lively interest in real things. If the world around you and all the things that are going on don't compel your interest and invite your participation, your youth is gone. If your interest keeps you going, with ambition to see and do your part in a helpful way you have the secret for which old Ponce de Leon and hordes of others have given their lives.

Newspaper publicity is great stuff. That is proven partly by the people who are willing to pay for it and partly by the number of people who seem able to make a living by getting free publicity for their clients—free as far as the newspapers are concerned, but undoubtedly expensive for their customers. Here are samples out of one morning's mail:

A lady whose stationery proclaims her as a "counselor of publicity," sends a news story about some author-actor's series of plays to be staged soon. An appended list names about 50 millionaires who sponsor the artistic enterprise—but not to the extent of providing for publicity other than by hiring a "counselor" with a fluent typewriter.

A chamber of commerce secretary promotes the brotherly spirit in his part of the county by sending a news item with a nasty slant at a neighboring town. He refers to an undesirable condition there, which he assures an anxious world does not exist in his own town.

Forming new propaganda organizations is one of the things a newspaper has frequent opportunity to assist. One with headquarters in Chicago asks a column article to tell about itself and the branch which is to be formed here. The News is asked to tell the public that a certain business man is sponsoring the cause here and will receive membership applications and fees. Inasmuch as the business man named has no interest in the "cause" and the problem it is designed to solve does not exist here, the appeal for free publicity follows those previously described.

And so it goes. Add to these free lance publicity sharks the horde of state and government departments which burden the mails with stuff in which the political bugs have devoured whatever germ of public interest might be expected from them. And then you have some idea of why editors have large waste baskets and a huge bonfire in the back yard every morning.

BETHANY CHURCH CHILDREN'S DAY IS A BIG EVENT

Children's Day program last Sunday was a success in every way, according to church officials and those who saw the affair. The service from beginning to close was most interesting and helpful.

Those taking part did their work in a most pleasing manner. There were 33 to receive diplomas and Testaments and Bibles. Great credit is due to the painstaking work done by the superintendent, Dr. F. H. Cram, the superintendents of departments and the teachers for their faithful and spiritual work and training of classes.

The Sunday school of Bethany is to be congratulated that it has such an efficient staff of workers, who are vitally interested in the welfare of the scholars, and who are earnestly trying to train them in a careful knowledge of the Bible, God's Holy Word, and in spiritual living in daily life.

Congregational Church

The sermon at the morning service of the Congregational church will be preached by Rev. J. Delbert Bignall. His subject will be, "Jesus Christ, the True Vine." The evening service will be under the auspices of the League of Youth.

Congregational Ladies Meet for Final Session

A splendid group of women met in the Congregational church June 16th to mend hymn books and Bibles. Regular business reports showed the Ladies' Aid work progressing most satisfactorily. It was decided to have a dinner in the church on June 30th for a general good time, before regular meetings end for the summer and many members leave for vacation.

The luncheon served under the direction of Mrs. R. J. Lord and Mrs. Greer Caskey was most enjoyable. Mrs. W. S. Hull opened the Missionary meeting by calling on Mrs. Bandy to lead in a sincere devotional hour.

Mrs. Kortkamp and Mrs. Ward presented a clever and appealing picture of the improved condition of a southern highland family, after the mission school had shown the daughter a finer way of life.

Mrs. Haywood, chairman of drama, for the federation of woman's clubs, read "Sun-Up," in a most touching manner, and certainly each listener will strive more earnestly for individual, national and international peace.

Mrs. Morgridge closed the program with a fine rendition, "Deep River." The day was made happier by the presence of Mrs. C. A. Cover of Long Beach. (Press Chairman.)

LUNCHEON FOR ALABAMANS AT THE TEA GARDEN

One of the very interesting luncheons of the current week was that given Thursday at the Wistaria Vine Tea Garden by Mrs. T. S. Pound and Miss Lizzie Lee Pound. Under the giant vine in this delectable garden, which is close—oh, so very close—to the mystic solemnity of the Sierra peaks and yet whose well groomed shrubs and vines bear evidence of civilization, a table for eight was set. Here two wood-nymphs served the four-course luncheon. The guests were all from Mrs. and Miss Pound's former home, Birmingham, Ala.

Frona V. Clark Pupils Give Fine Recital

Piano pupils from the class of Frona V. Clark, whose studio is at 50 E. Grand view avenue, entertained relatives and friends at an informal recital at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Karicofe, 86 East Alegria, Saturday afternoon, June 13. The program revealed fine talent among the pupils. Six year-old Jimmy Kemper won much applause with four bright pieces. Dorothy Edwards of Covina was guest of honor and played with ease and fluency though but twelve years old. Miss Clarke closed the program, playing the dazzlingly brilliant Tarantelle, by Liszt. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Lutheran Church

Preaching service Sunday at 11 a. m. in the City Park house on Central avenue, Dr. John M. Ziegler officiating. The sermon theme this Sunday is "The Gospel Invitation." Anyone who appreciates the old time religion—the religion that rejoices in a present and living Savior, will meet a hearty welcome.

The Lutheran field day last Saturday on the grounds for the Home for the Aged on Grandview avenue, was attended by about 250 people. Enthusiastic endorsement of the location was unanimous. Dr. Ziegler is conducting a canvass for funds to meet the payment in July. As soon as the grounds are paid for the first unit of the proposed buildings will be erected.

Ralph Odwarker narrowly escaped serious injury Saturday night when his motor cycle hit a bump and refused to return to the road until it had hit the culvert in front of the D. N. Alcorn home on East Central. The motorcycle was completely wrecked but outside of severe bruises the rider was not seriously injured.

Entertain In Honor of Confirmation

On Sunday afternoon, June 14, a large gathering of friends were assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Brown, 144 San Gabriel Court, for a reception and luncheon in honor of the confirmation of their son, Rubie. The toastmaster was Mr. Sonan of Pasadena, who after welcoming the guests, congratulated the father and mother on the happy occasion. Flowers and ferns were everywhere, and sparkling wit graced the festive board.

The program was opened with a recitation by Mrs. Pauline Wolpert, a Sierra Madre woman and poetess. Her writings are mostly in Yiddish. Her first number was "Adam and Eve," her own composition, which brought forth much merriment. Twelve of her other original poems followed, alternated with songs and recitations most artistically rendered by Mr. Schuster, also of Sierra Madre. Mrs. Wolpert then sang two songs, and concluded her portion of the entertainment with "I Love You, Sierra Madre," her own composition. Her efforts were rewarded on this occasion by a liberal donation to the J. C. R. A. of Duarte, California, from Mr. Brown. Several numbers were sung in Yiddish and English by the Misses Stone of Pasadena. Mr. Alexander, president of the Jewish Social club of Sierra Madre, most eloquently addressed those present in an appeal to parents to endeavor to know their children, and reap the golden reward of parental sympathy. Mr. Argyle Tully of Sierra Madre sang to his own accompaniment several beautiful selections. A Russian folk dance was given by Mrs. Wolpert and Mrs. Schuster. They were imitated directly afterwards by two Pasadena ladies in charming mimicry. The confirmation celebration, or rather, as it is called in Jewish, the Barmitzwa, was brought to a close by an address by the host, wherein he thanked his guests for their presence, and graciously acknowledged the talent of those who participated in the evening's entertainment.

A crowd of friends and relatives held a tin-can serenade at the new home of Mr. and Mrs. John Shaw on North Lima street, Tuesday night. The friends of the newly married couple took possession of the house and proceeded to have a good time in their own way. According to those who planned the party, a good time was had by all except the host and hostess.

Naval Dance

The Pasadena unit of the 2 Battalion 4th Division of the U. S. Naval Reserve Force will give its monthly dance at the Service Club, Ross Field, Arcadia, June 26. This unit has had several dances at the Service club the last few months, and they are well liked by all that have attended. There are several contests and surprise dances, which will be the main events of the evening. The well known "Sailors Syn-copating Sea-Gulls" orchestra will play for this dance. If you are looking for a good time don't forget the Naval Reserve dance, a good time is guaranteed to all.

The kerosene to use should be the highest grade only—Pearl Oil—especially refined and re-refined for use in oil cookstoves and heaters. Pearl Oil burns clean—no smoke—no odor—the air stays sweet and pure. Pearl Oil won't corrode the metal parts of your oil cookstove.

Forestry
Essay Wins
First Prize

The following essay was written by Craig McLaughlin of the Seventh Grade and was given to the News by Forest Ranger M. H. Davis as an example of the class of work done by the school in the essay contest which was held recently by the Forestry Department as a part of its educational campaign.

HOW TO BE A GOOD CAMPER

When you go camping take camp stoves if you can, for they are safer than open fires, more convenient, require less fuel, and do not blacken cooking utensils. Camp fires should never be larger than necessary, and the best care should be taken to keep them from getting into the neighboring forest. Clear away the litter for a considerable space about the fire. And be sure to put the fire out before leaving it. Take a shovel and an axe along with you for you will not find any lying on the road. Burn all kitchen refuse in the camp fire; it will not affect the cooking. Burn everything—coffee grounds, parings, bones, meat, even old tin cans—for if thrown around they will attract flies. If burning is impracticable, dig a hole for the refuse, leaving the earth piled upon the edge, cover every addition with a layer of dirt. During wet weather look for kindling in burned sugar pine or yellow-pine butts or in pine-knots. The under side of a leaning tree will usually contain dry material. Dead branches of a manzanita, etc., that have not yet fallen are drier than those on the ground. Bark from fir snags is excellent fuel. Where matches are scarce or when the weather is stormy, light a candle and kindle your fire from that. Fires can be prevented only by educating the public. This the Forest Service tries to accomplish in different ways. Especially by giving attention to the Woodsman's Six Rules:

1. Matches—Be sure your match is out. Pinch it before throwing it away.
2. Tobacco—Throw pipe ashes and cigar or cigarette stumps in the dust of the road and stamp or pinch out the fire before leaving them. Don't throw them into brush, leaves, or needles.
3. Making Camp—Build a small campfire. Build it in the open, not against a tree or log or near brush. Scrape away the trash from all around it.
4. Leaving Camp—Never leave a campfire even for a short time, without quenching it with water and then covering it with earth.

5. Bonfires—Never build bonfires in windy weather or where there is the slightest danger of their escaping from control. Don't make them larger than you need.

6. Fighting Fires—If you find a fire try to put it out. If you can't get word of it to the nearest United States forest ranger or State fire warden at once. Keep in touch with the rangers.

The best tools for fighting fire are the shovel, axe, and hoe or rake. In open pine forest very little axe work will be required. Shovel or rake a trail through the needles down to mineral soil, and guard the trail.

To stop a fire burning in brush the trail must first be cut with the axe and then scraped. The brush should be thrown to the side away from the fire. The litter may be scraped toward the fire.

Pick a route for the fire trail that will avoid brush patches if possible. The crest of a ridge is an excellent location for the fire naturally checks at the top.

Do not give up because the fire is gaining headway or because you lack tools. The fire has already been reported by lookouts and rangers are hurrying to it properly equipped. Stay and help them; and in the meantime do what you can to keep it in check.

See that a fire is cold before you leave it. Do not suppose that because a fire is merely burning in apparently worthless brush it is therefore doing no damage. Such fires are often the most serious.

As It Occurred 19 Years Ago

In Those Days the Sierra Madre News Printed These Items Now Copied from Files

Today was the last day of the of the spring term of the public school and the pupils will enjoy the long summer vacation to the limit and come back again with renewed energy to enter upon the work of another year. The year just closed has been one of the most successful in the history of the school and would indicate that the beautiful new school house was not completed too soon. The graduating class numbers seven, five boys and two girls, namely: Marjorie Rice, Anna Janson, Harold Costello, Fred Hatfield, Irving McDaniels, Ralph Odwarker and Edward Melvin. The total enrollment of the school was 118 pupils.

A party of Sierra Madre people attended the high school commencement exercises held in Pasadena Friday night. The graduation class was a large one, nearly 60 in number, and the First Methodist church where the commencement was held, was taxed to its utmost capacity. Our two graduates, Miss Elsie Caskey and Miss Maybelle Caley, returned to Sierra Madre heavily laden with flowers and other honors.

Postmaster Gregory calls attention to an article in the Postmaster's Advocate to the effect that persons are being arrested in various parts of the country for writing on matter that is being sent third class. Most of the offenders seem to be those who write short notes when enclosing tobacco tags, syrup tags and clipped trademarks.

—1906—
Last Friday a horse belonging to E. Stanton of the Sierra Madre Dairy company became frightened at a young child who was rolling a small wagon on the sidewalk. While its mad career was of short duration it might have had serious consequences.

—1906—
Without counters or bank fixtures save a desk, table and some chairs, Cashier H. G. Flint of the First National Bank of Sierra Madre opened his doors for business last Monday morning. There have been several delays in opening and the directors felt that it would be better to open under difficulties than to cause another postponement of the opening date. The officers of the bank are: President, Alfred Cooper; first vice-president, C. S. Kersting; second vice-president, A. D. Hawks; cashier, H. G. Flint; directors, Alfred Cooper, C. S. Kersting, A. D. Hawks, H. G. Flint, Charles H. Baker, F. T. Sibbey, N. H. Hosmer, E. W. Camp and L. C. Torrance. The First National Bank was incorporated on Jan. 17, 1907, and its charter was granted May 23, 1907.

Word was received a few days ago through one of the nurses of the Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle, who is visiting in town, that W. S. Sturtevant, who recently suffered a stroke of paralysis while on the trail, is improving rapidly.

—1906—
The last meeting of the Woman's club for this season will be held at the home of Mrs. E. W. Camp on next Monday at 3 o'clock. This will be Grandmother's Day, and members are requested to dress in old fashioned costumes as much as possible. This meeting will be for club members only.

—1906—
Miss Hazel Hill visited her aunt at Alhambra last week.

—1906—
Miss Barnett and Mrs. James Logan of the "Californians" opera company spent Sunday afternoon and evening in Sierra Madre at the home of Mrs. Williamson and Miss Lockwood.

—1906—
The electric power was shut off from Sierra Madre until later this afternoon, seriously interfering with the printing of the News.

—1906—
Mr. and Mrs. Greer Caskey, Henry Caskey and Miss Hazel Rice returned Tuesday from an enjoyable outing in the West Fork.

—1906—
Miss Emily Brugman attended the alumni dance of the Pasadena High school at the Shakespeare club house Monday evening.

—1906—
The irrigation business is in full bloom just now in this city and the fruit crop will flourish.

—1906—
About noon Wednesday the people on the peak noticed smoke arising from the canyon of the West Fork and immediately started down to check the flames. Two badly frightened young men were met coming down the trail and from appearances knew something about the origin of the fire. They were taken back to fight the blaze and a crew was secured from Sierra Madre. The fire burned over about ten acres before it was extinguished. Very little damage was done.

J. F. Sadler, one of the local golf addicts, suffered a serious relapse this week following a 46 which he registered on the Arcadia course on Tuesday morning while most people were still in bed.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Lehner were the weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Farman at their mountain cabin at Forest Home, Mill Creek Canyon, and arrived home on Monday evening.

Mrs. Claudia Andrews recently came here from Texas to be affiliated with the Pollyanna Shop. She is a very successful dressmaker.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shaw returned Monday from Catalina, where they spent several days on their wedding tour. They are living for the present at 447 West Highland but will move soon to their new home on North Lima.

Mr. Fred Parker of Los Angeles has accepted a position with the Sierra Madre Furniture Company and will be in charge of the linoleum and window shade department. Mr. Parker is an expert in the laying of linoleum.

Miss Jean Plantz of Chicago, who has been the guest of her uncle, George M. Lehner, for the past three weeks, left for San Francisco Friday.

Hand Picked Paramounts At Wistaria

"Cheaper to Marry," Robert Z. Leonard's latest production for Metro Goldwyn-Mayer, will be shown at the Wistaria theater Monday and Tuesday. In the large and well proportioned cast are Lewis S. Stone, Conrad Nagel, Paulette Goddard, Marguerite de la Motte, Louise Fazenda, Claude Gillingwater, and Richard Wayne. "Cheaper to Marry" serves as an indictment of present-day tendencies toward free love and "complete understandings." It is vivid, dramatic, bright and entertaining.

Betty Blythe, of "Queen of Sheba" fame, went abroad not long ago to appear in several foreign-made pictures. One of these, "Recoil," was seen recently, and now the second, "Chu Chin Chow," will come to the Wistaria theater Wednesday and Thursday. "Chu Chin Chow" is a gorgeous film version of the most famous of all spectacles, which played in London five years and three in America. It tells an elaborate story of the Arabian Nights' legend of Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves, with a great wealth of big scenes and thrilling action. Herbert Langley, a celebrated English actor, appears in the name role. "Chu Chin Chow," which is a Graham Wilcox production distributed by Metro-Goldwyn, was adapted and directed by Herbert Wilcox.

The best known recipe for making a palatable motion picture is: take a story with original twists, add capable direction, good actors, unusual scenes, and season with comedy, drama and intelligence. Serve in seven reels. That recipe has been followed by the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer company in the production, "The Way of a Girl," the picture at the Wistaria next Friday. Directed by Robert G. Vignola, from the story by Katherine Newlin Burt, "The Way of a Girl," tells of an irresponsible girl who wants always "something new," and finds too much of it. Incorporated in the story are many brilliant scenes, the best of which are an Artists' ball and a prize fight scene.

Eleanor Boardman, Matt Moore, William Russell and Mathew Betz play the leading roles in the production, with Miss Boardman as the thrill-seeking girl, Moore as her conservative suitor, Russell in an unusually heroic character role, and Betz as the deep-dyed villain.

Tom Tyler, manager of the Sierra Madre Furniture company, will move into the W. E. Farman residence at 32 East Highland next Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Tyler have been living at South Santa Anita but as soon as they went into business here arranged to move to Sierra Madre.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stover will leave Saturday for Laguna Beach for their vacation. Mr. and Mrs. Stover will occupy the cottage belonging to Mr. Stover's parents.

Miss Dorothy Wark took seriously ill with appendicitis Wednesday evening and has been unable to be at her work at the Southern Counties Gas company.

TO HOLD SUMMER SUBTROPICAL SCHOOL SOON

Announcement is made through the office of the County Farm Bureau of the Summer school of Subtropical Horticulture, to be held at the Riverside Citrus Experiment Station, June 27 to August 8. The course will cover work in walnuts, citrus and subtropical fruits, and will include work on varieties, propagation, planting, cultivation, irrigation, insect control, disease control, pruning, picking, packing, and marketing.

The course is open to students who have had certain preliminary college training, and to the general public, who may attend all sessions but will not participate in recitations or laboratory work. Both classes of students will be required to pay the $25 tuition fee. Classes will be given by specialists in various lines, in charge of Professor Robert W. Hodgson, formerly Farm Advisor for Los Angeles county.

This activity is an extension of the work customarily given at the University, and has been located at Riverside in order to allow a large number of people, who have the time during the summer, to take instruction in subtropical horticulture in the heart of greatest production.

Further information is available at the office of the County Farm Advisor and Farm Bureau, 230 Court Street, Los Angeles.

"Turn her in? Why should I? That old Ford is as good as she ever was. Since I switched to that new Zerolene 'F' for Fords she runs like a clock and seems to have a bit more power too."

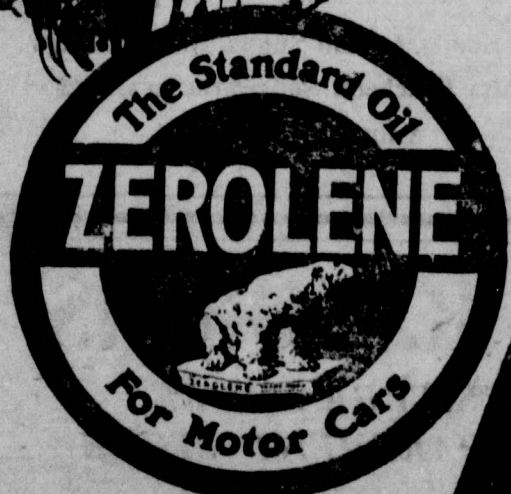

Zerolene "F" for Fords gets to all the bearings requiring lubrication—especially the wrist-pin bearings and the upper half of the cylinder walls that are frequently oil-starved when an unsuitable lubricant is used.

It deposits a minimum of carbon, and because it lubricates better, enables the engine to develop a considerable margin of power over and above what you're accustomed to expect from your Ford.

And it costs not more, but less than most of the special Ford oils now on the market.

A Ford is an A-1 transportation investment. Protect your investment by proper lubrication.

Auxiliary Hostess to Boys of Local Legion

The American Legion Auxiliary entertained the members of the local Legion post and a number of other ex-service men and their friends at an old-fashioned get-together party on Wednesday night. The evening was spent in playing games and in dancing. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Craig furnished the music for the occasion. At the close of the evening the ladies served refreshments which spoke well for culinary ability.
